

List of Sources

- Adamnanus, De locis sanctis, libri tres—Report on bishop Arculfus' pilgrimage to the Holy Land in AD 670. L. Bieler ed., in: Itineraria et alia geographica, Turnhout 1965 (CCSL 175), pp. 175-234.
- Anthony the Chozebite, Life of George of Choziba, Analecta Bollandiana 7 (1888), pp. 95-144, 336-359; "Miracles of the Holy Virgin in Choziba", ibid., pp. 360-370. Written during the Persian occupation of Palestine, 614-628 ca.
- Antoninus Placentinus, Itinerarium—Journal of an anonymous pilgrim from Piacenza (Italy), called Antoninus, after the saint he invokes as his patron; he visited the Holy Land in AD 570. His journal is known in two slightly dissimilar versions. P. Geyer ed., in: Itineraria et alia geographica, Turnhout 1965 (CCSL 175), pp. 127-153; 155-174.
- Cyril of Scythopolis, Lives of Euthymius, Sabas, John the Hesychast, Cyriacus, Theodosius, Theognius, and Abraham—Written ca. 557-559. E. Schwartz ed., Leipzig 1939 (Texte und Untersuchungen, 49, 2).
- Ps. Cyril of Scythopolis, Life of Gerasimus—An anonymous 'Life of Gerasimus' is ascribed to Cyril: it is preserved in some slightly dissimilar versions, one of which was inserted in the 'Life of Euthymius', but was deleted in Schwartz's edition. This interpolation was published by B. Flusin, Miracle et histoire dans l'oeuvre de Cyrille de Scythopolis, Paris 1983, pp. 228-231. Other versions: K.Y. Koikyliades, Αί παρά τὸν Ἰορδάνην λαῦραι, Jerusalem, 1902.
- De obitu Theodosii Hierosolymitani*—History of the resistance of the Judean desert monks to the Chalcedonian creed, in 451-457 ca. E.W. Brooks ed., Vitae Virorum apud Monophysitas celeberrimorum, Pars I. III, Louvain 1955 (CSCO Script. Syri 7-8) -
- De Synecletica in Jordane—Story of a female hermit, probably from the second half of the sixth century. B. Flusin, J. Paramelle edd., Analecta Bollandiana 100 (1982), pp. 305-317.
- Epiphanius monachus Hagiopolites, Enarratio Syriae—Description of the Holy Land in the late VII or early VIII century. PG 120, cols. 260-272.
- Evagrius Scholasticus, Historia Ecclesiastica—A history of the Church between 431 and 594, written before AD 600. J. Bidez, L. Pamentier edd., London, 1898 (Amsterdam 1964).
- Joannes Moschus, Leimonarion (Pratum Spirituale)—John lived as a monk in the Judean Desert in the second half of the VI century. Together with his friend Sophronius he visited monasteries in Palestine, Syria, Sinai and Egypt. He wrote his collection of anecdotes at the beginning of the VII century. The Greek text published in the Patrological collection of J.P. Migne is accompanied by an old Latin translation, based on a different and somewhat more complete Greek original. Relevant additions derived from the Latin translation are marked with square brackets. PG 87, 39 cols. 2847-3116. Some additional texts were published by several editors: we chose one text from Th. Nissen ed., "Unbekannte Erzählungen aus dem Pratum Spirituale", Byzantinische Zeitschrift 38 (1938), pp. 354-376.
- John of Ephesus, Historia Ecclesiastica, Pars Tertia—Monophysite History of the Church, in Syriac, from the late VI century. E.W. Brooks ed., Louvain 1952 (CSCO 105-106, Script. Syri 54-55).
- John Rufus, Plerophories—Anti-Chalcedonian collection preserved in Syriac, composed by John, bishop of Maiouma, in the early VI century. F. Nau ed., PO 8,1 (Paris 1911-12).
- Leontius Neapolitanus, Life of Symeon the Fool—Life of an Edessene saint from the VI century, written in the VII century. PG 93, cols. 1669-1748.
- Madaba Map—A map of Palestine and Egypt, depicted on a mosaic floor found at Madaba, Jordan, and dated to the third quarter of the VI century. M. Avi-Yonah, The Madaba Mosaic Map, Jerusalem, 1954.

- Palladius, Historia Lausiaca—Collection of anecdotes, written in the early V century. E.C. Butler ed., Cambridge, 1898-1904 (Hildesheim 1967) = PG 349-1001 ff. 5
- Paul of Elusa, Life of Theognius—Life of Theognius (ob. 522), written between 522 and 526. J. van den Gheyn ed., Analecta Bollandiana 10 (1891), pp. 78-118.
- Procopius of Caesarea, Buildings—Written probably in 560 or a little earlier. H.B. Dewing ed., London, Loeb Classical Library, 1954.
- Theodore of Petra, Life of Theodosius—Life of Theodosius (ob. 529), composed as a memorial discourse, probably in 530, but published later, when Theodosius' community (founded 479 ca.) had been in existence for about 80 years. H. Usener ed., Leipzig 1890.
- Theodosius, De situ Terrae Sanctae—Journal of a pilgrim, who visited Palestine between 518 and 530. P. Geyer ed. in: Itineraria et alia geographica, Turnhout 1965 (CCSL 175), pp. 115-125.
- Vita Charitonis—Life of the first monk in the Judean desert, in the first half of the IV century, written in the second half of the VI century. G. Garitte ed., Bulletin de l'Institut Historique Belge de Rome 21 (1941), pp. 16-46. 4 6
- Vita Stephani Sabaitae—Life of Stephen, a monk in the Great Laura in the second half of the VIII century (died 794), written by his disciple after his death. AASS Julii III, pp. 531 ff. 3
- Vita sancti Xenophontis et sociorum—Story of three monks, a father and his two sons, probably from the second half of the V century or the early VI century. A. Galante ed., Analecta Bollandiana 22 (1903), pp. 383-394. 5 6